Hi Huw,

Thanks for sharing... and for your information in my previous role I was closely across the economics of alcohol harm – and let's just say some of the numbers used by FARE and Saul are pretty dubious... the Lapsley study that Saul cites has been pretty thoroughly critiqued by a NZ academic Dr Eric Crampton.

It will be interesting to see what the 'Guardian' publishes in the end.

I'll call after the Easzac break and arrange a catch up.

Cheers Anita
